

The UK's best takeaway kebab is on sale in Stoke Newington

You can argue with your mates about who sells the best takeaway kebab all you like – last night it was decided. Super Kebab in Stoke Newington.

Now in its third year, the British Kebab Awards celebrates the very best in kebab culture and, as you might expect, Hackney was in the running for pretty much every award.

It's the second year running that a Stoke Newington joint has taken home the best takeaway gong after the Best Turkish Kebab was given the honour last year.

Other winners included Chatsworth Road's Pivaz which triumphed in the best newcomer category, while Dalston's Stone Cave was runner-up for the best value award.

You can see the full list of winners over at the Guardian who obviously did a better job than us of writing down what went on throughout the evening.
